

How we Work

The National Executive (NatEx) is responsible for agreeing and executing the strategic development plan of the FLSE. It is the forum which engages with members throughout the country. These meetings enable debate upon the important matters of moment and the sharing and collation of news, views and opinions from around the country and they inform the agenda and strategic planning of the National Executive.

Our National Executive Group is responsible for agreeing and executing the strategic development plan of the FLSE. It is the forum which engages with members throughout the country. These meetings enable debate upon the important matters of moment and the sharing and collation of news, views and opinions from around the country and they inform the agenda and strategic planning of the National Executive.

Through a range of networking activities including regular e-newsletters, forum, meetings, seminars and conferences we shall be keeping our members and the SEND community at large informed about the activities we're involved with and especially the many consultations and preliminary discussions that we are holding with various government agencies, education authorities and other professional bodies and associations.

Our aim is quite simple - to ensure that the 'collective voice' of our members is heard loud and clear, and that our message is well informed, consistent and facilitates greater co-operation, collaboration and support for all leaders involved with special education across all settings.

National Executive

Chair – Sue Hewitt

Vice Chair – Chris Rollins

Barry Payne

Kim Taylor

Jackie Mullan

David Bateson – Chair of NSEND Forum

Lorraine Petersen – West Midlands & Facilitator

Administration

Andy Petersen